

JOB POSTING

Date: June 30, 2017

Mission: "To discover each child's potential, inspire them to learn, and prepare them for a successful future."

POSITION: Junior Teacher – Long Term Occasional FULL-TIME

DATES: September 2017 to February 2018

DESCRIPTION: Matthews Hall, an independent elementary day school in London, Ontario, is currently seeking a long term occasional teacher. Candidates must have a combination of teaching qualifications and/or experiences appropriate to our enriched elementary school program (Junior Kindergarten to Grade 8) and acceptable to the Head of School. Experience teaching in a rich, creative, inquiry-based program such as the International Baccalaureate PYP, along with an independent school background will be considered assets. A record of integrity, collaboration, teamwork and professionalism, as well as a portfolio of work with children, will be important considerations when filling this vacancy. All teachers are expected to provide leadership in the school's co-curricular program and uphold the core values that guide our school's learning culture: community, excellence, inclusion, joy of effort, personal growth, respect and responsibility and a spirit of caring.
